

Johnny B.'s Rhythm of the North

PASSIONATE . FUN . ENTERTAINING

Johnny B's performance goes far outside the bounds of a musical performance. It is a wonderful and moving story of a life committed to the outdoors, education and music.

The footage of wilderness scenes is spectacular and the accompanying music adds even more. Johnny B is a passionate performer, but he is wise enough to let the wilderness and Alaska deliver their own powerful message.

These pieces below are often included in performances.

Classically trained while heavily influenced by jazz, boogie-woogie, the environment, and wildlife, Johnny B. has been performing professionally and composing music since 1972. His touring began in 1979 after finishing the Berklee College of Music in Boston.

His many years of travel visiting our national parks throughout America and the beauty of Alaska have served as inspiration for his on-stage performances as well as his musical compositions.

Johnny B. spends the summer performing at Pier One Theatre on the Spit in Homer, Alaska. During the fall and spring he schedules performances throughout the "Lower 48."
